

Sound Vibration and Healing

Facilitated by Dr Chery Ann Hoffmeyer, Ph.D, RN, QTTT

References

- Blackburn, Z. (2007). What is sound healing? New England Sound Healing Research Institute. Retrieved July 29, 2007 from www.neshri.org
- Campbell, D. (2001). The Mozart effect. New York: Harper Collins Publishers Inc.
- Chlan, L., Tracy, M. F., Nelson, B., & Walker, J. (2001). Feasibility of a music intervention protocol for patients receiving mechanical ventilatory support. Alternative Therapies in Health and Medicine, 7(6), 80-83.
- Comtios, M. (2007). 10 common uses for music and sound for well being. New England Sound Healing Research Institute. Retrieved July 29, 2007 from www.neshri.org
- De Sousa, A. (2005). The role of music therapy in psychiatry. Alternative Therapies in Health and Medicine, 11(6), 52-53. Berkeley, CA: Celestial Arts.
- Garfield, L. M. (1987). Sound medicine: Healing with music, voice and song.
- Gass, R. (1999). Chanting: Discovering spirit in sound. New York: Broadway Books.
- Goodall, D., & Etters, L. (2005). The therapeutic use of music on agitated behavior in those with dementia. Holistic Nursing Practice, 19(6), 258-262.
- Mandle, D. (2007). Using sound to treat pain and life threatening disease. New England Sound Healing Research Institute. Retrieved July 29, 2007 from www.neshri.org
- Rael, J. E., & Marlow, M. (2002). Being and vibration. Council Oak Books.
- Tomatis, A.A. (1991). The conscious ear. Barrytown, NY: Station Hill Press.
- Van Dyke, D. (2001). Traveling the sacred sound current: Keys for conscious evolution. Bowen Island, BC: Sound Current Music.